PIZZA BASES REINVENTED

The PIZZATEC system produces individual pizza slices with each slice having upstanding peripheral side walls which function to retain food content there within. The dough is pre-made in a factory, rolled into a thin sheet and then stamped round. It can be frozen for transport and for storage. The dough base itself can be formulated into an Italian mix, wholegrain wheat, oatmeal, etc. The PIZZATEC system's special dough press includes top and bottom cooking elements that heat and mould the pattern/shape using the pre-prepared round dough base. Fillings can be ladled onto the crust and then baked further if desired. For more information, call 0418 468 194.
